

Older People's Economic Wellbeing Index

Scotland Senior Policy and Public Affairs Officer

Independent Age

Date: January 13, 2026

Independent Age's inaugural Older People's Economic Wellbeing Index: Scotland 2024–25, was commissioned by Independent Age and conducted by the Diffley Partnership. The research is based on 1,700 responses nationally from those 66+ and details their experiences of various elements of financial stress which we use to develop policy priorities.

It makes interesting reading, read for yourself and download a copy directly from Independent Age.